Hey Danny,

I did not see a document attached with the list of names who have taken Well Control. I took it this passed november.

Patrick

FYI

In wake of the BP disaster our customers are starting to request proof of Well Control for our personnel. The attached list is who Randy Smith Well Control has down as taking the course from SDL. All F14's and above will need to take the course. The number is [REDACTED] Ask for Jennifer and she can schedule you for Lafayette or Houston. The class is Monday through Thursday and you have to stay for the subsea portion on Thursday afternoon. Be sure to tell them that when you sign up.

Our cost code is 1016910158 and I am your Manager (be sure to tell her that). There is a back log right now because all the other Service Companies are sending their employees also. Once you sign up you need to e-mail ALL the Coordinators including me to let us know what week you are going.

If you have taken Well Control somewhere else then please send me the certificate. Anyone who took it over 2 years ago will be randomly selected to take a refresher test. I have attached some basic information and formulas you should be familiar with.

Please refresh yourself on calculating KWM (kill weight mud) and hydrostatic pressure calculations ( $MW \times 0.52 \times TVD$ ). See attached with other formulas.

You should be as familiar with these as you are at hand calculating lag which after doing competency reviews on some of you I am appalled how some of you struggle. PLEASE BRUSH UP AND START PRACTICING!! If you are not sure then ask a Senior hand to help you. You will never know if you don't ask.
