Derek,

Bill is out of the office all week, so I will try to talk to Dan. I will fill him in on what I talked about with Dough, Rick and Ken and you and see if he has any suggestions. Currently I am screening all the ROV footage to identify any structural damage and simultaneously building the first stability calculation. How do you feel about getting DNV involved, as Ken and Rick suggested, to obtain a neutral third party opinion?

Regards,
Bjoern

Bjoern,

Sorry for the delay in responding, had a few "domestic" things to sort over the weekend!

These notes look OK to me, you will need to speak with Bill and/or Dan about the sonar scan of the rig; as indicated this may already exist, but there would be a substantially cost to do from scratch.

I plan to call you on Wed after I've spoken with Noble Denton. I will be at my UK desk today till about 1000 Houston time (+44 1224 427 757) and most of tomorrow if you need to speak with me before Wed.
