Today’s complex drilling operations demand sophisticated well-control modeling tools

In evaluation of emergency response for a drilling operation, onshore or offshore, one essential element is the pre-evaluation of the possibility of regaining control of a blowing well. Even though the probability of a blowout might be small, the consequences with respect to safety, cost and pollution could be catastrophic.