c) In order to address sealing the well at the BOP, if the LMRP can be removed from the BOP, conventional wisdom would suggest that another subsea BOP could be placed on top of the Horizon's BOP in order to close the well in. (Assuming that the BOP can be stabbed on with a riser in place and with hydrocarbons entering the riser - this has significant associated risks). Alternatively, a subsea disconnect device could be used to stab onto...